Sculptural Seedheads

LAUNCH 2 | SEPTEMBER

September brings a seasonal shift. Sculptural seedheads and fading florals signal the start of a slower season.

This collection is simple yet crafted. A curation of modern classics, softer textures and architectural shapes to layer in new artful ways. Careful compositions borrow from the delicate form of dried flowers; illustrated in print and captured in Fair Isle stitches.

Taking cue from nature's rhythms, pieces are designed to adapt with the changing seasons. Love now and layer later, to create impact in your wardrobe year after year.

Beech & Birch

LAUNCH 3 | OCTOBER

Earthy tones. Layered textures. A contemporary autumn wardrobe where each piece adds to the fabric of everyday life.

Inspired by Cornwall's autumnal woodlands, the palette is foraged from nature. Canopies of copper beech leaves. The contrast of silver birch bark. Pale splashes of lichen green.

As always, the collection was designed in-studio with consideration for its impact on the environment. Yarns are responsibly sourced; cotton fibre is traceable and organic. This design philosophy has been written into seasonal staples made to outlast seasonal trends.

Festive Florals

LAUNCH 4 | NOVEMBER

Bold floral prints and opulent textures bring life and warmth to winter evenings.

The palette celebrates the season's signature shades, with rich reds, deep greens and glowing golds that tell a story of candlelit evenings and magical Christmas moments. It comes together in expressive botanical prints and intricate Fair Isles.

Every piece has its place, creating a seamless capsule of considered winter pieces that will last long beyond the festive season.
